An Introduction

Facilities providers, like many businesses are always going through change. Change is a constant and more so where contracts are often let on a short term basis.

The demands of clients and the nature of contracts changing hands dictates there is continuous need, often at short notice for extra resource. Businesses are under pressure and often need to flex due to capacity issues. There may be a need to replace a manager leaving at short notice, to manage an important contract where upon taking someone off another contract would only create another gap, to manage a mobilisation or TUPE process or commercial negotiation, or to assist a bid process requiring experienced support.

Bringing in an experienced short term resource can alleviate the pressure, with no commitment. They can be easily taken out of the business when the need subsides. Also, there is the possibility to “try before you buy”. FM Temps have held experienced management roles in recognised providers and often interested to commit to a permanent, long term position if available.

Macallam has a fully vetted small and accurate “A Team” of outstanding professionals who are available quickly to step in to the challenge, or the network resources to find them.
